

Anchor Point MOTORHOMES Guide to LIMERICK

Steeped in history, reminders of Limerick's prominent Medieval past is still evident among the old city walls and famous landmarks in the old quarter. Experience the magic of Limerick's Milk Market or delve back to prehistoric times at Lough Gur's stone age settlement which outdates the pyramids. Book a tour of Thomond Park, kayak along Clancy's Strand, admire the arts, trek the glens, seek outdoor activities or venture to Foynes maritime and boat museum! Explore it all!

King Johns Castle

King Johns Castle was built over 800 years ago by King John of England on an existing Viking fort. It offers spectacular views of the Shannon, Clancy's Strand, surrounding country side and showcases what life in the Medieval walled city looked like back then. This part of the walled city was known as 'English town' developed in the 13th century, with "Irish town" directly along side stretching up to St. John's Square. Daytime parking in the centre can be a bit tricky but if you head for the Ennis road you should find parallel parking spaces only a few minutes walk away.

The Treaty Stone sits on Limerick's River bank near Thomond Bridge, on Clancy's Strand upon which the 1691 treaty was signed. This truce between the Jacobites who fought alongside catholic King James II against Protestant William of Orange outlined the terms of peaceful co-existence for both sides.

The Milk Market

If you want to capture the true essence of Limerick, we strongly recommend a visit to its famous Milk Market which runs every weekend. It has up to 150 stalls and 21 shop units packed with culinary delights, organic produce, quality crafts, records, clothing and bric-a-brac. The humble and friendly vibe under its big top is almost tangible, and it promises for a very unique experience. Many locals finish up with brunch in one of its many excellent nearby cafes.

Limerick City

Limerick is a large modern city with a fantastic selection of restaurants, bistros and cafes for every palette and pocket. It has amazing pubs old and new, river side walks, museums and is also a great shopping location. Explore it's past as you wander by St Mary's Cathedral, Thomond Bridge, St. John's Island, and the old medieval city walls.

St Mary's Cathedral is a fine example of Limerick's historical significance. This stunning architectural landmark is one of the oldest buildings in Limerick and was originally the Royal Palace and centre of government for the Kings of Thomond during medieval viking times.

It was handed over to the church over 850 years ago, and remains a place of worship today. See website to book a viewing.

Lough Gur

Lough Gur is an area of extreme beauty encompassing over 6,000 years of living history. Home to Ireland's largest and oldest stone circle, it is also one of the few places in Ireland where you will find every Irish native tree species. This remarkable stone age settlement features in and around thirty ancient 'field monuments' including stone circles, standing stones, megalithic tombs, and cairns.

There are plenty of walking trails and a fairy trail for younger children.
