

Self contained holiday comfort

The new norm has us all carefully considering our every move in order to keep ourselves and others safe. Thankfully motorhomes are self contained with electricity, toilet facilities and running hot water, which allows for full control of sanitisation and cleanliness to a standard you would like at home. Your very own holiday apartment on wheels.

If you are one of the lucky ones and already own your own motorhome, congratulations, Ireland's diverse landscape has us spoilt for choice, the only difficulty is choosing where to go. If you are considering purchasing a motorhome, there has never been a better time to make a purchase.

Motorhome facts worth knowing!

Did you know that most motorhomes can be driven on a standard Car License?

Running costs are low with Road Tax only €102 & Insurance approx €400 per annum.

Motorhomes hold their value much more than cars and represent great value for money when compared to rental costs of roughly €1,500 per week. As a rule of thumb, a ten year old motorhome is worth 60-65% of its original purchase price ; a good investment!

There are over 100 Bord Failte approved campsites dotted all over Ireland and an endless number of wild camping locations.
